THE YOKE

A Romance of the Days When the Lord Redeemed the Children of Israel from the Bondage of Egypt
By Elizabeth Miller

Copyright, 1904, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

It was a vain hope, a happy delusion that might serve to make the harsh bondage endurable till time dispelled it. The simple words of the girl were eloquent portrayal of Israel's plight, and Kenekes subsided into a sorry state of helpless sympathy. She was not long in interpreting his silence.

"Vain hope, is it?" she said. "And how shall it come to pass in the face of the Pharaoh's denial and the might of Egypt's arms? Thou art young, and so am I, but both of us remember Rameses. There has been none like him. He overthrew the world, did he not, and it was a hard task and a precarious one and a long one when he but measured arms with mortals. Is it not a problem worthy the study to ponder how he might have fared in battle with a god?"

Kenekes lifted his head suddenly and regarded her.
"Aye," she continued, "I have given thee food for thought. Futile indeed were Israel's hopes if it set itself unaided against the Pharaoh. But the God of Israel hath appointed his hour and hath already descended into fellowship with his chosen people. He hath promised to lead us forth, and the Divine respects a promise. So a God against a Pharaoh. Both it not appear to thee, Egyptian, that there approaches a marvelous time?"

"Give me but faith in the hypothesis and I shall say of a surety," he replied.

"Thou hast said. Shall we not go on, my master?"
"I am Kenekes, the son of Mentu," he told her.
She bent her head in acknowledgment of the introduction and moved forward as if to climb up by the projecting edges of the strata, but he put a powerful arm about her and lifted her into the valley. With a light bound he was beside her. Ahead of them was profound darkness, hedged by black and close drawn walls and canopied by distant and unilluminating stars. She resumed her place behind him, though he was moved to protest, but her deliberate manner seemed to demand its way, so they continued slowly.

"Thou givest me interest in the God of Israel," he said, to reopen the subject. "The Egyptian dwells in his gods, but thou sayest that the God of Israel dwells in Israel."

"Even so. But thou speakest of Israel's God even after the fashion of my people. They are jealous, saying that the true God hath but one love and that is Israel. If they would think it, let them, but he is the all-God, of all the earth, the one God—thy God as well as mine."

"Mine!" Kenekes exclaimed.

"Thou hast said."

"Now, by all things worshipful, this is news. I had ever thought that our gods are those to whom we bow. Either thou sayest wrong or I have been remiss in my devotions."

"Nay, listen," she said earnestly, stepping to his side. "Already have I told thee of the captain of Israel. He was reared among princes in the house of the Pharaoh, and he is learned in all the wisdom of Egypt. He instructeth the elders concerning Jehovah, and from mouth to mouth his wisdom traverseth till it reacheth the ears of the young. This, then, I have from the lips of Moses, who speaketh naught but the truth. In early times all on earth had perished for wickedness by the sending of the one God, save a holy man and his three sons. These men worshipped the God of Abraham, who was the father of Israel. One of the sons founded thy race, said Moses, and one established mine. The tribes that went into Egypt worshipped the same God. Lo, is it not written in the early tombs? So Moses testified, but if thou doubtst, go question thy historians. And some of the tribes called that God Ra, others Ptah, and yet others Amen. But in time they quarreled, and each tribe refused to admit the identity of the three named one God, saying, 'Thy God sendeth plague and affliction, and our sunsets rich harvests and the Nile floods.' Did not the same God do each of these things in his wisdom? Even so. But when they were at last united into one great people they had forgotten the quarrel, forgotten that in the beginning they had worshipped one God, and they bowed down to three instead. Nay, if there were but one among you who dared, there are loose threads fluttering, which, if drawn, might unravel the whole fabric of idolatry and disclose that which it hides—the one God—the God of Abraham."

Kenekes had walked in silence, looking down into the luminous eyes, lost in wonder. Rachel suddenly realized at what length she had talked and stopped abruptly, dropping back to her place again as if children.

"Come," said Kenekes, noting her action, "walk beside me, priestess. I would hear more of this. It is like all forbidden things—wondrously alluring."

"I did forget," she answered stubbornly. "There is nothing more." Kenekes stopped.

"Come," he insisted. "The teacher rather precedes the pupil. At least thou shalt walk beside me." "I pray thee, let us go on. We are not yet at the camp, we have walked so slowly," she answered. At that moment several fragments of rock, loosening, slid down in the dark just behind her. She caught her breath and was beside the young artist in an instant. He laughed in sheer delight.

"Thou hast assembled the spirits by thy blasphemy," he said. "And, remember, I must soon return to this haunted place alone."

"Thou canst get a brand of fire or a cudgel at the camp," she said, with some remorse in her voice. "And run for the river bank." With that she resumed her place behind him.

Kenekes laughed again. It gave him uncommon pleasure to know that his model was concerned for him. He put out his hand and deliberately drew her up to his side. Not content with that, he bent his arm and put her hand under it and into his palm, so that she could not leave him again. She submitted reluctantly, but her fingers, lost in his warm clasp, were cold and ill at ease. He felt their chill and released her to slip about her shoulders the light woolen mantle he had worn. Her apprehension lest he take her hand again was so evident that he refrained, though he slackened his step and kept with her.

But she spoke no more until they were beside the outermost circle of coals that had been a cooking fire for the camp. Here they met a man, whom by his superior dress Kenekes took to be the taskmaster. They were almost upon him before he was seen.

"Rachel!" he exclaimed.

"Here am I," she answered a little anxiously.

"Thou wast gone long!" he began. The sculptor interposed.

"She hath done me a service, and it was my pleasure to talk with her," he said complacently. "Hide her not."

The glow from the fire lighted the young man's face, and the taskmaster, standing in deep shadow, scanned it sharply, but did not answer. Kenekes turned and strode away down the valley.

Rachel snatched a thick sycamore club which had been left over in the construction of the scaffold and ran after him. But the young sculptor had disappeared in the dark.

"Kenekes," she cried at last desperately. He answered immediately.

She slipped off the mantle.

"This, thy mantle," she said when he approached, "and this," thrusting the club into his hands. "There is as much danger in the valley for thee as for me." And like a shadow she was gone.

As he hurried on again through the dense gloom of the ravine the young man thought long on the Israelite and her words. She had offered him the oracles that peremptorily contradicted the accepted idea among Egyptians that Moses was inspired by a personal motive of revenge. The argument put forth by his father began to show sundry weaknesses. Furthermore, Rachel's version gave him a much coveted opportunity to slip from his shoulders the discomforting blame that had rested there since he had heard that a miscarried letter might effect a national disturbance. Much as the practical side of his nature sought to decry the great Hebrew's motive, a sense of relief possessed him.

"I fear me, Kenekes, thou durst not boast thyself an embroiler of nations," he said to himself. "The Hebrew prince is a zealot, and zealots have no fear for their lives. Truly those Israelites are an uncommon and a proud people. But, by Besa, is she not beautiful!"

He enlarged on this latter thought at such exhaustive length that he had traversed the valley and field, found his boat, crossed the Nile and was at home before he had made an end.

ON A NEW BASIS

Japan Concedes Crucial Point to Russia's Pride.

INDEMNITY IS WAIVED

Baron Komura Today Submitted to Mr. Witte a New Basis of Compromise in Peace Parley.

Tables Turned on Russian Diplomats by Japanese Cabinet and Elder Statesmen.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 29.—This morning Baron Komura, acting upon instructions received from Tokio as a result of yesterday's meeting of the cabinet and "elder statesmen" under the direct presidency of the emperor of Japan, submitted to Mr. Witte a compromise, it is firmly believed, will insure peace.

The revelation contained in the announcement yesterday that Japan had already informed Emperor Nicholas through Ambassador Meyer, that Japan was ready to waive the question of indemnity and submit the price to be paid for the northern half of Sakhalin to the judgment of a mixed commission but prepared the way for the Japanese backdown upon the main issue. The announcement had been the sensation of the day.

It had met with denials high and low. It was decided to be impossible, incredible. The Japanese declined to admit it and the Russians said they had no confirmation. Mr. Witte intimated strongly that St. Petersburg had not apprised him of any such action by the president. There was even a disposition to ridicule the idea of arbitrating the price of half of the island. Nevertheless, on all hands it was admitted if Japan took this position, the ground was cut out from under Emperor Nicholas.

Mr. Witte by consummate skill in conceding all the demands of Japan involving the real issues of the war, had maneuvered his adversaries into a position where, unless they abandoned the claim for indemnity, they could be held responsible for continuing the war for money.

The Japanese by now foregoing the demand for indemnity practically turn the tables upon Russia and shift the burden back to her shoulders if she does not consent to submit a minor issue to the impartial judgment of a tribunal. Mr. Witte publicly dissents vigorously from the proposition, and there will still be a struggle with Peterhof, but if Japan today agrees to formally renounce all claims for direct or indirect compensation for the expenses of the war, the big stumbling-block to peace is out of the way.

Everything will depend upon the form in which the proposal has been submitted. Should the renunciation be so coupled with the other proposition that Russia could claim it was still only a disguised demand for tribute, the gulf might only be narrowed, not bridged. All the private advices that reach the Russian mission from St. Petersburg indicate that the military party is bellicose and insistent that Linkevitch be given a chance, and that negotiations be broken off.

Mr. Witte feels the pressure of this sentiment, and as a man of ambition, he may not feel that he can afford to lay himself open to the charge that he is temporizing with the situation. He has power under his instructions to reject out of hand any proposition involving the payment of tribute. He need not consult his imperial master. He is a man of inspiration, and he is quite capable if the Japanese proposition savors still of "blood money" to refuse even to accept it for transmission to St. Petersburg. But such a stroke is not expected. Mr. Witte knows that public opinion both in America and in Europe as well as in Russia, would condemn him if he broke off the negotiations just as the way was opened for a possible accord.

While apparently the real negotiations leading up to today's denouement were conducted by the president at Oyster Bay, acting through Baron Kaneko on the one hand and Ambassador Meyer on the other, it is now believed that much has been going on beneath the surface here. Another indication of the sudden turn in the events was the arrival here last night of Frank A. Vanderlip, vice president of the City National bank of New York. He registered at the hotel as "John Howard," and after dinner went to Mr. Witte's room and remained an hour. When asked his mission Mr. Vanderlip said he was only "interested" in the situation. He evaded inquiries as to whether the subject of a loan had been discussed. But considering the importance of the "financial group" of which the City National bank is a member, and the fact that the bank took a portion of one of the Russian loans, it is fair to assume that the question of finance was not entirely ignored.

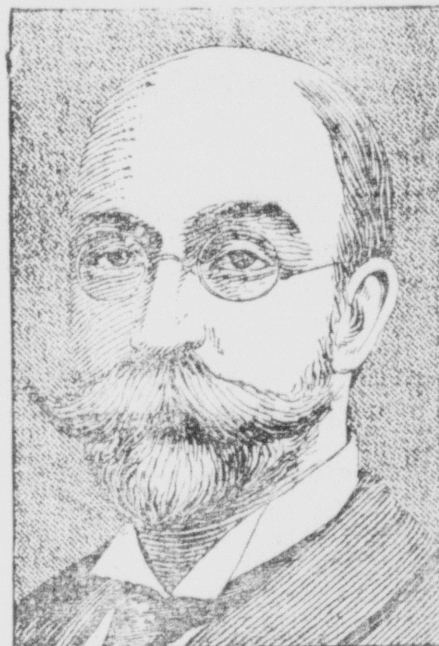

Some of the Japanese were greatly excited today over the reports that the Tokio government had surrendered on the subject of indemnity. They refused to believe it, declaring that if true it would cause a tremendous outburst of popular feeling in Japan.

A HOPEFUL FEELING

New Orleans Passing Critical Stage Without Fear.

New Orleans, Aug. 29.—New cases yesterday, 45; total to date, 1,788; deaths yesterday, 5; total, 250; remaining under treatment, 181.

Though New Orleans is now in the midst of a period usually critical in yellow fever epidemics there is no present indication that the federal authorities are to lose their grip on the situation. Today's total is regarded as confirming the opinions expressed a week ago that there is little further chance that the disease will get away from those who are fighting it so stubbornly. So thorough is the control here believed to be now that it is expected that within the next ten days Dr. Witte will be able to reorganize his forces, dividing the city into districts instead of wards and reducing the forces of workers now employed.

Paves the Way for Peace.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.—The dispatch from Portsmouth declaring that President Roosevelt was authorized several days ago on behalf of Japan to waive all claim for indemnity or reimbursement for the cost of the war, and to cede back to Russia the northern half of the Island of Sakhalin, leaving the "redemption" price of it to the arbitration of a mixed commission, was received here with the greatest interest. There is every reason to believe that this proposition by Japan to waive the question of indemnity goes far toward removing the last, and according to official explanations, the only, stumbling-block in the way of peace. Every disputed point between Russia and Japan, with the exception of the payment of indemnity, has practically been arranged on a basis satisfactory to both sides.

To Reinforce Army.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.—An imperial ukase orders the mobilization of troops for the reinforcement of the army in the far East. The order applies to certain districts in the governments of Vilna, Grodno, Kovno, Courland, Livonia, Perm, Viatka, Simbirsk, Saratov, Orenburg, Astrakhan and Ufa, and to the Don Cossacks. Horses have been requisitioned in various districts of eighteen governments.

Kinross, Mo., Aug. 29.—Lewis Hall, postmaster and justice of the peace, shot and probably fatally fatally wounded City Marshal Herman Henschel, following a quarrel growing out of an argument over the Sunday closing law.

Constantinople, Aug. 29.—A collective note from the six embassies, giving notice of the appointment of commissioners to control the finances of Macedonia, has been presented to the porte.

SHIP WENT DOWN

Two Only Were Left to Tell Tale of Tragedy of the Sea.

A MARVELOUS ESCAPE

The Steamer Peconic Founders in Storm Off Florida Coast and But Two Survive.

These Sailors Seize a Small Boat and After Great Hardships Reach Shore.

Fernandina, Fla., Aug. 29.—Two sailors, one a Spaniard, the other an Italian, have reported as having landed at Amelia Island beach, to which point they had pulled ashore in the small boat belonging to a vessel lost at sea about 12:30 o'clock Sunday night. These men were the only survivors of the crew of twenty-five of the steamer Peconic, Captain Jones, which was bound for New Orleans from Philadelphia, loaded with coal, capacity, 1,157 tons. About midnight of Sunday during the heaviest part of a storm which had raged all day, the officers of the deck gave orders to put her about to sea, fearing they were approaching too near the coast. In their endeavor to turn the ship was struck by a heavy sea, the cargo shifted, giving a broadside, and she began sinking rapidly. In less than ten minutes after the alarm was sounded she had gone to the bottom and no trace of her was left upon the waters. The account of their own escape out of all the ship's crew who went down was something approaching the marvelous.

One of these men was at the wheel when the word was given, the other was on watch. As soon as the ship began to career these two men rushed for one of the small boats, which they jumped into as the vessel began to go down. With their knives they severed the ropes as the water's level was reached and the small boat was thrown far out on the waves. They furthermore say that they discovered through the blackness and storm the figures of part of the awakened crew, some of whom managed to crowd into another of the ship's boats. This was, however, caught in a trough of the sea, thrown violently against the ventilators and then caught fast. Their cries for help could be heard as the ship went down, with the storm raging and threatening each moment to swamp their small boat, these two men were gradually borne ashore toward Amelia Island. Their condition was pitiable. The men have testified to the correctness of the report before a notary public, and the community here has cared for them. They say there were five Spanish firemen and one French sailor, two Spanish seamen, and the rest Italians. The Peconic was of 1,154 tons register and had on board about 1,500 tons of coal. She cleared from Philadelphia for New Orleans Aug. 19.

AGAINST THE ROAD

Interstate Railway Commission Settles Hay Rate Question.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The interstate commerce commission has rendered a decision in the case of T. M. Kehoe & Co., of Terre Haute, Ind., against the Evansville & Terre Haute Railroad company and others in the matter of rates on the shipment of hay. The Evansville & Terre Haute Railroad company refused to apply a proportion on shipments billed to Evansville in care of a Southern line for points beyond, having discontinued a tariff providing the rate, which was effective from Nov. 10, 1903, to July 19, 1904. The rate from Evansville by the other defendant lines is the same whether shipped locally from or through Evansville. The commission held that it is unreasonable and unjust for the Evansville & Terre Haute to insist on the billing of these shipments to a specified destination in order to secure application of the lower proportionate rate, while it declines to assume responsibility for such billing and does not post in its stations the tariffs from which the shipper can himself ascertain the rate at which the shipment should be billed, and that while the proportionate rate is kept in force it is reasonable and just that these shipments shall be billed to Evansville in care of the road leading south to Chicago, as was actually done in 1903 and 1904. The complainants are allowed reparation on certain shipments.

Big Department Closes Doors.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 29.—The building and stock of the Pennsylvania Traffic company, which operates the largest department store in the city, are a total loss as the result of a fire that started about 11 o'clock last night among some refuse near the elevator shaft in one of the wings of the building. The estimated loss is $300,000, which is almost covered by insurance.

Brought Back by Sheriff.

Bedford, Ind., Aug. 29.—Mae Hitchcock, charged with embezzling $600 from his employer, Milton Meyers, by forging a check, has returned to Bedford in company with Sheriff Frank Smith, who located Hitchcock in Pasadena, Cal. Hitchcock says that he was given permission to sign Meyer's name.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years. You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

TRAGIC COINCIDENCE

A Thousand Miles Apart Husband and Wife Meet Death at Same Hour.

New York, Aug. 29.—Separated by 1,600 miles of distance Mrs. June Johnson and her husband, Allan Johnson, a Little Rock (Ark.) banker, met death almost simultaneously. At the hour when Mrs. Johnson's body was taken from the bathing beach at Coney Island, a telegram reached her to inform her of the death of her husband. The wife was a magazine contributor, who wrote under the nom de plume of Helen Dixie Johnson, and the husband was president of the National Exchange bank of Little Rock. The telegram bore the sending time of 1 p. m. At that hour a friend of Mrs. Johnson was giving an alarm because of the woman's tardiness at a luncheon at which she had been invited. Mrs. Johnson had gone bathing during the forenoon in spite of the cool weather, and as there were few other persons in the water, no one noted her disappearance. Her body was found some distance out to sea about 7 o'clock in the afternoon. Up to that hour the telegram had not yet been delivered, owing to the delays in transmission through the city. The body had just been placed in the morgue at Coney Island when a messenger boy rushed in with the dispatch. He did not know that the Mrs. June Johnson for whom he was searching was there, but was following her hostess, who had just heard of the drowning.

STARVED OUT.

Many a garrison has been forced to give up the fight and hang out the white flag of surrender, when lack of food has weakened the men past all power to continue the struggle.

Many a man is similarly starved out of business. His digestion is impaired. His food does not nourish him, and for lack of strength to carry on the struggle he turns his store over to another.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores strength to weak, nervous, run-down men and women.

"About ten years ago I began to be afflicted with stomach trouble, also diarrhoea," writes Mr. Wm. Walters, of Astrim, Mo. "In warm weather it grew worse, until it would hardly end had come. Tried many remedies, but they gave only temporary relief. In November, 1899, thought I would try Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I got six bottles and took five in succession, then thought I would wait for a time and take the one left. Soon found I had symptoms of the trouble coming back, so took the sixth bottle and it cured me. I have enjoyed the best of health this summer, and the credit all belongs to your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I can't express my many thanks to Dr. Pierce for his remedy for I did so much for me. Words can't express how severely I suffered."

"If any doubt the above statement let them address me. I will take great pleasure in answering."

Agreement Reached.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 29.—The peace conference has arrived at an agreement and adjourned until 3 p. m. It has been decided to the elaboration of a treaty. The Japanese yielded practically everything.

WE call attention to the report of the First National Bank in another column. The bank makes a splendid showing in this report.

GOVERNOR HANLY has issued his Labor Day proclamation in which he pays a high tribute to the men who toil. Monday, September 4 is set apart as Labor Day.

THE prospects for peace between Japan and Russia seem more hopeful today. Japan has made concessions on the question of indemnity that may result in an agreement.

THERE may be some who for personal reasons criticize in private Governor Hanly's policy of law enforcement. But none openly and publicly say the Governor is wrong in his position. He simply insists that the laws of the state should be obeyed and urges public officers to do their full duty. In this he is right and the people approve his course because it is right.

Committee Met.

The Log Rolling and Carnival committee held another meeting last night to talk over the arrangements for next week and to attend to such matters as needed attention. This committee has labored long and faithfully and we are sure that when next week's festivities are over the people will say that they have done their work well. Next week will be a big week in Seymour. The Log Rolling and Encampment will attract the Woodmen and the circus and carnival will attract everybody.

RESTORED TO SIGHT AGAIN.

Wonderful Results of Grim's Multi-Center Lenses.

MR. THEODORE DROGE, with the Greenman Furniture Company says: "My work of saw filing being close and confining and compelling me to use one set of eye muscles more than another, I have been troubled for some time with unbalanced eye muscles causing me much trouble in seeing my work properly."

I had tried to get relief by having glasses fitted. Although being somewhat benefited as regards my seeing I was never able to obtain entire relief. I then had Dr. Grim examine my eyes and fit me with a pair of his Multi-Center Lenses and can say they are the best glasses I have ever worn, they answer my purposes admirably and restored me again to normal vision.

(Remember it is dangerous to have your eyes examined or glasses fitted by "so called opticians, optometrists and spectacle peddlers" who do not possess a thorough medical education.)

RED MEN

MASONIC.

The Grand Master of Michigan—From Various Quarters.

At the recent session of the grand lodge of Michigan John Rowson of Grand Rapids was elected grand master. Mr. Rowson has long been active in Masonic affairs in the Wolverine State.

JOHN ROWSON.

State and is very well known and popular throughout the jurisdiction. He is a past head of all the Masonic bodies in his home city, a prominent business man and president of two of the city boards. He was fifty years old the day he was elected grand master. Recent reports show the craft in Michigan is in an exceedingly prosperous condition.

Knights and Ladies of Honor.

There was a splendid increase in membership during the month of July. The lodge that grows has the best initiatory work. That stimulates the individual member, and then the lodge naturally grows.

Arrangements are being made to initiate large classes in several jurisdictions this fall.

The fraternal sanitarium now being built at Fraternal City, N. M., includes fifteen square miles of cultivated land at an aggregate elevation of 6,000 feet. In the center of the tract is the Montezuma hotel, erected by the Santa Fe railroad at a cost of $500,000.

THE HOUSE-HOSPITABLE.

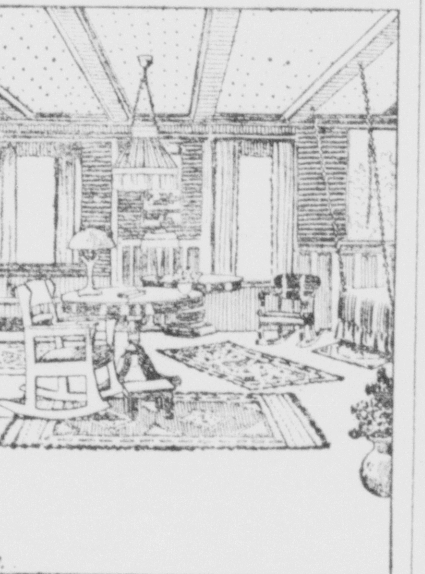

The Large Living Hall and the Old Time Dining Room.

In a home where the household enters into out of door sports the living hall assumes an air of enjoyable freedom that is attained in no other room in the dwelling. A neighborly sociability, too, fits more easily into the informal than the formal hall. In fact, for some people and in some places there is no pleasanter expression of family life than in the large, hospitable living hall. For this reason the example shown in the illustration has many details that will appeal especially to the makers of homes.

The lower walls are paneled with dark wood, and the dark beams in the ceiling are lightened with buff tinted plaster. The walls are painted a soft shade of olive, and an almost indefinable pattern is stenciled upon the under color in a slightly deeper tone. The windows have buff colored linen shades with curtains made of brown net. Outside are long reaches of valleys and distant mountains, and in curtaining the windows the pictures painted by nature are merely framed in and not shut away.

The mahogany table in the center of the floor has a reading lamp of its own, and a general light is diffused through the room by a wrought iron lantern hanging from the ceiling by an iron chain. A swinging settle in the corner, a Davenport sofa and easy chairs afford comfortable and varied sitting places for the family. The large spaces of polished floor are broken up by oriental rugs of different sizes.

The dining room takes on a look of established usage from its old time furniture. Two drop leaf mahogany tables are placed against the wall and used instead of a sideboard and a serving table. The extension table is modern, but of good design. However much we may praise our forefathers and their ability in cabinetmaking, we must claim for our own period, although invented by our British cousins, the convenient extension table.

The dining chairs are of Chipendale pattern with open back and rush seat. Some of the antique china is kept behind the glass of a quaint hanging closet, and other pieces are distributed against the lower wall as appropriate and pleasing decoration.

The attraction bestowed by the old time piece in this room is in vivid contrast with much of the uninteresting conventional furnishing we often see in this part of the house. Designer.

Hunger and Food.

Hunger makes the plainest foods enjoyable. It causes vigorous secretion and outpouring of all the digestive fluids—the sources of pepsin, pepsin, trypsin, etc.—without a plentiful supply of which no foods can be perfectly digested. Wait for an appetite if it takes a week. If breakfast is a bore or lunch a matter of indifference, cut one or both of them out. Wait for distinct and unmistakable hunger and then eat slowly. If you do this you need ask few questions as to the propriety and digestibility of what you eat.—Hygienic Gazette.

Pickled Onions.

For pickled onions use the silver skin variety. Place them in hot water to protect the eyes while peeling them. Put into brine for twenty-four hours, boil up, strain off the brine and dry. Then bottle, covering with vinegar. Use white vinegar if you wish to retain the white color. 7-9 some whole peppers, bruised ginger and a little sliced horseradish.

Fruit Stains.

Fruit stains may be removed from tablecloths and napkins by pouring boiling water through the spots before the articles are washed. Old fruit stains are said to yield to freezing.

Echoes of Fashion.

The circular cloak seems to be a favorite in smart fashions. The circular must have any amount of fullness from the shoulders, and perhaps that is why so many are made of the soft satin cloth, rayon and even chiffon and lace.

The tunic overskirt is frequently used on afternoon gowns. Parasols are fussy tucked, shirred, gauged or puckered to accord with the skirts of the fashionable summer gowns.

Boned belts, high and snug fitting, are cleverly used to give a princess gown effect with separate bodice and skirt.

A child's suspender girdle to wear with a long valanced French dress is composed of dresden ribbon.

The fashionable sleeve is elbow length. When long gloves are not worn little lingerie undersleeves are tacked in to extend from elbow to wrist.

Chiffon voile, very fine and very sheer, is one of the charming new fabrics of the season.

TAKES PAPER OFF WALL.

Steam Bath For Removing Old Room Decorations.

A paper hanger estimating on a job which requires the removal of old paper from the walls is always figuring in the dark, for the reason that it makes a great deal of difference whether he has one layer of paper to take off or more. In other words, it is impossible for him to determine whether the work of removal will require the services of a man for half a day or two days.

Steam has been found to be well suited for this work, and by its aid it is said to be possible to remove the paper without regard to the thickness of the layer in a manner quicker and more cleanly than heretofore. The apparatus by which this is done is entirely portable, and a complete plant is shown in the accompanying illustration. It consists mainly of a kettle in which is combined a water boiler and a gasoline tank and burner for getting up steam. The water compartment holds four gallons, which is more than ample for half a day's work. The steam generated passes through a rubber pipe to a hood, which is held for a short time on the wall to be cleaned. The paper under the hood immediately becomes saturated, and the hood is moved to another spot, and the place just vacated is gone over with the paper hanger's spade, the paper being easily removed. The spade follows the hood, and in an incredibly short time a great deal of old paper is removed.

A few minutes' application of the steam under the hood is sufficient to remove the thickest deposit of paper which one would be likely to find. As high as fifteen coats of wall paper, one on over the other, have been penetrated by the steam and then removed.

With this implement it is possible to calculate almost to a penny the cost of the labor of removing paper. Another advantage is that it is sanitary. The application of the steam is said to remove all germs or vermin of any character whatever. Bugs which are harbored under the paper are killed instantly.

WALLACE CIRCUS.

Funny Men Coming On Wallace Day
In Seymour September 5.

Harry Earl, General Press Representative of Great Wallace Shows, is in Seymour today and among other things had the following to say:

"It has been stated that every laugh makes a man a day younger. If the statement is true—and no good argument has yet been presented to prove that it is not—it will be an easy matter for any individual to live a year longer, and at the very nominal expense of 50 cents for the entire 365 days. It may be said that there are no two human beings on this earth's surface who will equally enjoy a given funny notion or a witty speech. One man will not see the point in a story that to the other appears the most laughable thing imaginable. An incident that in action almost convulses the onlooker with laughter will not appear at all funny to the third party to whom the incident is recited. But let 10,000 people witness at the same time 1000 funny actions and queer antics and it will be impossible to find one individual in the entire aggregation of spectators whose ribs have not been tickled with laughter, and whose sense of humor has not been appealed to.

The great Wallace shows carry on their list of entertainers a troupe of laughter-making stars—a collection of artists whose whole existence is devoted to the task of provoking laughter. There are people in this world who do not want to laugh; let them be warned that they are courting disappointment in this direction if they visit the great Wallace shows; they will be compelled to laugh, not once but a hundred times, for the laugh-making kings who travel with these great shows have sworn an oath that no one shall escape them. Why not laugh and live the extra year? The expense is nominal, the entertainment is exciting and the time devoted to the enjoyment is well spent. You awaken the next day with renewed vigor and take up the thread of life with a lighter heart

By the way the funny men referred to with the Wallace circus, are commonly called clowns and the stunts offered by fifty of the Wallace comedy element is called the limit. The great Wallace shows will be here in Seymour September 5, afternoon and night.

Seemingly the great Wallace shows have out-done themselves this year, judging from the partial roster of the feature acts given below:

The Four Boises, La Troupe Carmen Four Marvelles, Eight Delemaades, Mohamet Ben Ali Troupe of Bedouin Arabs, Glinseretti Quartette, Ty-Bell Sisters, Ray Thompson's Peerless Exhibition of Horse Accomplishments, Schaar Family, Millie Tunour, Earl Sisters, Heruvert, "The Frogman," Herr Beeder's Performing Animals, Sugimoto, Royal Japanese Performers, Leslie's Porcine Wonders, Anita Faber, Josie DeMott, Robert Stickney, Jr., and twenty prominent riders, male and female. The scores of clowns have the fun in hand.

INCORPORATED.

Traction Line From New Albany to French Lick to be Built.

The Louisville, New Albany, West Baden and French Lick Traction Company has been incorporated. The men back of the proposition say that the road is a sure thing. Thos. Taggart one of the directors says that the men backing it were careful to see that the proposition was financed before the company was incorporated. "There is nothing to be said," says Taggart, "except that we have the money and are going to build the line."

The directors are L. C. Davis, Jno. F. Finley, George B. Dewees, B. H. Cravens, J. H. Braxton, Thomas Taggart, Lee W. Sinclair, O. S. Kline, W. A. Milton, John Sharp, John H. Leathers, Henry Ormsley, Henry Terstegge, Evan B. Stoltsenburg and Marion W. Riply.

The Columbus Times seems to think that the purposes of this new company will give inspiration to the proposition to build a line through this city. It says, "there is scarcely a doubt but the long-talked-of line from Columbus to Seymour and Brownstown, and on to French Lick and West Baden will be built, and it is almost certain, too, that a line will be built into French Lick and West Baden from Evansville and Vincennes and within the next few years these popular watering and pleasure resorts will become far more noted than now."

Cement Industry.

J. M. Hamer is now manufacturing concrete building blocks and a visit to his plant will convince any one that he is turning out a superior article. He has a machine in constant operation and is producing high grade goods. He makes blocks for foundation and building purposes that are cheaper and fully as good if not better than stone. The blocks are of different sizes and shapes and make a pretty wall. He is manufacturing the concrete blocks for the new Holiness Christian church and is supplying the same sort of material on several other jobs. The use of concrete blocks has increased very rapidly the past year and the demand for them will continue to grow. Mr. Hamer is to be commended for establishing this new industry in our midst.

What is More Comfortable Than an Open Fire Grate.

There is nothing more pleasant on a cool summer evening or a cold winter night than a cheerful crackling fire in the grate. But if poor coal is used there is nothing comfortable about it. There is more smoke than fire, through which the flames only sputter.

A Grate Fine Made of Raymond City Coal.

Is always comfortable. It burns just as you want it to burn, slowly and smoothly. We are now furnishing our customers with enough Raymond City coal to last them through the coming winter for the low price of $3.50 per ton. BIG MONEY MAKER

Indiana Author's Complaint of An Embarrassment of Riches.

GEORGE ADE'S SUCCESS

Kentland Boy Who Made a Hit With Public Has More Money Than He Can Handle.

A Conservative Estimate of His Present Annual Earnings Is $150,000.

Kentland, Ind., Aug. 29.—George Ade, formerly of this place and who is investing large sums on a model farm in this county, is getting rich so fast he doesn't know what to do with his money. A conservative estimate of his earnings this year is $150,000. In the coming season he will have ten companies on the road paying him royalties. This is a record which, it is believed, has not been equaled by any other American playwright.

Ade went to a friend a few days ago and confessed confidentially to him that he was in a quandary to know what to do with the money that is pouring in on him.

"Get married," his friend advised, "then your money will go fast enough."

Ade smiled. "If it's a question of money or matrimony," he said, "give me the money."

In addition to the royalties from his plays, Ade will receive remuneration from seven books, and he has just contracted to write a story embracing nearly all the rural types in his different plays. He will also write a playlet, "On His Uppers," at vaudeville houses. Two companies will appear in "The College Widow," two in "The County Chairman," and one each in "The Sultan of Sulu," "Peggy from Paris," "The Shogun," "The Bad Samaritan" and "Just Out of College."

SPECIAL GRAND JURY

Will Probably Investigate the Redkey Riot Case.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 29.—A special grand jury probably will be called together to investigate the crossing war between the Pennsylvania railroad and the Muncie & Portland Traction company, which culminated in the killing of Pan-Handle Detective William Purdy of Bradford Junction, O., who died in the hospital at Logansport, and the shooting of three other men.

Attorney George E. Ross of Logansport, solicitor for the Pennsylvania lines, has filed suit in circuit court here asking an injunction against the traction company's proceeding further with making the Redkey crossing. He not only seeks to enjoin further work on the traction tracks at that point, but undertakes to prevent the traction line from tearing up the one extra sidetrack constructed by the Pennsylvania during Friday night's fight.

Forty-three Pennsylvania railroad detectives have been on the scene for two days gathering evidence and watching developments, and some further trouble would not be surprising. A peculiar situation is presented as the traction company already has an injunction against the steam road.

Tragic End of Outing.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 29.—The home of A. S. Wilkins, a conductor on the Chicago & Erie, in this city, was wrecked and burned by a fearful gas explosion, and both Wilkins and his wife were so badly burned that their ultimate recovery is a matter of doubt. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins had just returned from a summer outing late at night. A leak in a gas main had sprung during their absence, and when the wife lighted a match to prepare supper the explosion followed. Wilkins came to her rescue and in an endeavor to free her from the flames both were burned.

Murdered Without Provocation.

Brazil, Ind., Aug. 29.—A stranger appeared at Diamond and asked the way to Perth. Someone gave him the wrong direction, when Anton Provolet, an Austrian, stepped up and told him the right way. Thinking the Austrian was making sport of him, the stranger pulled a revolver and shot Provolet. The injured man was brought here and placed on an interurban car to be taken to the hospital at Terre Haute, and died on the way. The murderer escaped and his identity is unknown.

Bad Blood Between Neighbors.

Corydon, Ind., Aug. 29.—Joshua F. Zenor, a well-to-do farmer of Posey township, this county, shot and seriously wounded his neighbor, Levi Farnley, Zenor finding Farnley at work in a field and using his weapon. There is bad blood between them. Zenor is defendant in a slander suit recently filed by Shirley Harris, in which the plaintiff complains of having been accused of theft.

Killed by His Own Auto.

Rensselaer, Ind., Aug. 29.—Joseph Fagot, thirty-eight, a wealthy real estate dealer of Remington, was killed while on his way home from this city. His automobile ran off the grade a bridge two miles south of Rensselaer. He was buried under the machine in the mud and smothered to death.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indications of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

The Excitement.

In past times it was considered for the king's justice and the king's peace to make a law, and now it is twice a year, at Easter and at Christmas, on a table which was the most striking object in the chamber in which they assembled. This table was covered with dark red cloth and divided into squares, which gave it a checker-board appearance, and in the columns and squares the accounts rendered by the sheriffs and great landowners who attended for that purpose, were entered and reckoned up. It was the checker-board, so conspicuous through the tapestries, that gave rise to a name, checker, just as the stars on the ceiling of another hall were room, originated the name "star chamber."—London Globe.

Pleasantly Effective.

These famous little pills are a certain guarantee against headache, biliousness, torpid liver and all of the ills resulting from constipation. They tonic and strengthen the liver. Cure Jaundice. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Steampipe Lets Go.

Danville, Ill., Aug. 29.—Two men were fatally and three seriously burned here yesterday afternoon by the bursting of a 16-inch steam pipe at the Danville electric light plant. Fatally injured: John Hatcher and E. C. Adwell, both of Danville. The men were repairing the pipe when a pipe blew off. They were terribly scalded and the force of the steam propelled large chunks of the pipe into a result of the accident the fire was in darkness last night and no structures were ruined.

The stratagem of a mirror or art is a ray of light when passing through a medium of uniform density. Hence the eye is enabled to see the straightness of an edge of tube by holding it as nearly as possible coincident with a ray of light, such parts as depart from straightness then intercepting a ray and causing a shade to be cast upon other parts. It is not known at what early period in the history of mankind the discovery was made that straightness could be thus determined. It is certain that thousands of mechanics use the method daily without being able to give a rational explanation of it.

Virginia has 290 subordinate lodges, 54 encampments, 54 Rebekah lodges and 3 cantons of Patriarchs Militant.

Nothing on the Market Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere, and line out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. Obe Wilmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo., in a circular to his customers, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicine which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Cairo the Gambler's Paradise.

Modern Cairo must be a sort of gambler's paradise, judging from some facts which I recently had from a friend who has been in Egypt for some time. In one of the principal streets near Mohammed Ali square a gentleman who knows the town well pointed out over twenty fine houses owned by the boys with the names of bets upon them, every one of which he knew to be gambling hell, and a police official admitted to the live fact that the town was full of such places. They said the places from time to time, but the creditors, mostly foreigners and mostly clerics, are protected by their consuls and let off lightly and return to the business the next day. I should guess that the business is chiefly carried on for foreigners as well as by them. There is a sort of cosmopolitanism about gambling, and its votaries are drawn from all corners of the earth by the scent of the game. But this seems to be one respect in which Egypt has not improved under British influence.—London Truth.

They Appeal to Our Sympathies.

The bilious and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. There is not one of them, however, who may not be brought back to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. These tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and strengthen the digestion. They also regulate the bowels. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

A GENERAL HOLIDAY

Governor Hanly Issues a Labor Day Proclamation.

Indianapolis, Aug. 29.—Governor Hanly has issued a public proclamation designating Sept. 4 as Labor Day and calling on the people generally to observe it by taking a holiday. "Let the spirit of the occasion be such as becomes a glad and joyous celebration of the mighty force that has made us great, both as a state and a nation, and upon which depends the prosperity and happiness of our posterity," he said. The governor declared that this nation, with all it represents or is, is labor's contribution to the present sum of human peace and happiness. "Through the divine ministry of toil the fullness of the land is ours," he continued. "We live in favored times. The elements of the soil, of the air, of the sky and the seasons themselves have conspired with labor to make this a year of immeasurable plenty throughout the nation, and especially within our own goodly community. It is, therefore, meet and proper that we set apart this day to celebrate labor's triumphs and to do honor to her children."

One member of the railway commission has found a decision in a Pennsylvania case which may fit the present gas belt situation, the substance of which is that inasmuch as the manufacturers are not in competition with anyone in the use of coal and as they give to the roads an in- and out-bound freight in addition to the freight on coal, that conditions are not identical with those of the average coal dealer, and consequently there is no violation of the law in giving the manufacturer a lower rate under the circumstances. Governor Hanly is alive to the danger of attempting to change conditions in the gas belt, and he is urging that care be exercised. The railroad attorneys have been asked to submit briefs in the matter, and nothing will be done till they are heard from. The matter is arousing intense interest in the gas belt, and men who have their money invested there are urging the commission not to raise the rate. It has been suggested that the railroads could lower the rate and make a profit on the coal. The commission has no authority to force the roads to haul at a lower rate than they can afford, and if they attempt to fix a lower schedule the courts will probably be asked to determine the matter.

It would not be surprising if the Indiana railway commission does not attempt to change the present freight rates for coal in the gas belt. At least two of the commissioners were deeply impressed by the statements of the manufacturers last Friday that their business cannot exist if the freight rates for coal are raised. One manufacturer whose integrity has never been questioned said that four-fifths of the industries of this community would have to quit business if the coal rate is raised, and his statement made a deep impression with two members of the commission. The statement was made a number of times during the preliminary conference before the commission that it is generally known throughout the gas belt that there is a lower rate for the manufacturers and that it is generally realized that it is necessary in order for them to continue in business. The commission does not want to make a decision that will injure a section that has been hard hit by the failure of gas, nor does it care to wink at the law or seek to avoid carrying out its provisions. Yet it will not be surprising if a way out of the difficulty is found without making any changes.

The old postoffice building at Pennsylvania and Market streets will soon be deserted by the present quota of federal officers. Hundreds of boxes were piled in the corridors today to be used in moving into the new building, which occupies an entire block bounded by Meridian, Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York streets. The new postoffice will probably be opened by the 20th of next month. The contractor is working a large force day and night to get the building in readiness by then.

Sale of Lincoln's Birthplace.

Hodgenville, Ky., Aug. 29.—Abraham Lincoln's birthplace, a 110-acre farm, has been sold at auction to R. J. Collier of New York, who probably bought it as an investment. The price paid for it $3,600, is not more than it would bring for farming purposes. The property was sold by order of court in the bankruptcy case of A. W. Denette of New York, who had purchased it fifteen years ago from the Creel family, into whose hands it came at the time the Lincoln family removed from the state.

Mr. Morgan Interested.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 29.—J. Pierpont Morgan had an extended conference with President Roosevelt. The conference related to matters pertaining to the Canton-Hankow railroad in China and its probable disposition by the present owner, the America-China Development company. The firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. practically controls the road and its concessions.

Holmes Now Under Bond.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., former assistant statistician of the department of agriculture, voluntarily surrendered himself in response to the indictment found last week by the grand jury, charging him with conspiracy in connection with the premature publication of government crop reports. Holmes was released on $10,000 bond.

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Ore., via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 22nd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.

The fare is an unusually low one, and this occasion presents an exceptional opportunity for a sight-seeing trip to Colorado and the West. Excursionists may go over one route and return over another, making the trip via Chicago, returning through St. Louis, or vice versa. Full particulars may be ascertained by consulting J. W.
